ALREADY TALKING M'ADOO FOR 1928

CANDIDATE NEEDED TO UNITE ALL FACTIONS.

THIRD PARTY UNPOPULAR

But Coalition of Democrats and Progressive Republicans Would Form Formidable Opposition to G.O.P.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Hope springs eternal in the Democratic breast and nothing appears more significant than the recurrent talk of William G. McAdoo for 1928. Instead of accepting the defeat of Tuesday as a verdict for conservatism, the Democrats are regarding it as the result of their own bad tactics.

This has more than passing importance as a post mortem. It shows what the Democrats are likely to try to do next. For the more they examine the election returns the more they are convinced that LaFollette was the cause of their defeat. Just as Roosevelt in 1912 proved the nemesis of the Republican party, so LaFollette without perhaps intending it, assisted materially in placing a conservative in power.

Immediately after 1912, the Republicans especially those who supported Roosevelt, saw the unwisdom of keeping the party divided and then reunited in 1916. Even Colonel Roosevelt was so anxious to defeat the Democrat administration in 1916 despite the appeal of a staunch battalion of Bull Moosers, he refused to be a third party candidate again. Will Robert M. LaFollette and his followers still stick to their plan of forming this winter a third party organization? The railroad brotherhoods and the American Federation of Labor and the other groups which lent their support to LaFollette now see that a continuance of their struggle against conservative doctrine will be futile unless they absorb the whole Democratic party or permit themselves to be absorbed by it.

Old Parties Best.

There always is a momentum to the established parties. In both Ohio and New York there were no outstanding third party candidates for governor, the Democratic candidate —Governor Donahey and Governor Smith—won out by comfortable majorities notwithstanding the tremendous pluralities given Coolidge. In New York the vote given to Norman Thomas, candidate for governor would have gone to Al Smith as in previous elections and the only lesson of the New York state contest is that Smith, if beaten, would have been able to attribute to some extent his defeat to the loss of the few votes that might otherwise have gone to him.

Labor Defeated.

Labor stands at the close of the campaign defeated in its first serious attempt to back a presidential candidate. Friction inside labor's ranks throughout the campaign when so many of the leaders insisted on going to Davis indicates that some of the chieftains recognized that the LaFollette campaign was merely dividing their own ranks.

The talk of McAdoo for 1928 may never mean his nomination. He will be 64 years old then and as a rule candidates for president do not win the nomination at that age though LaFollette's advanced age was not often talked about in the campaign. The mention of McAdoo does mean that the Democrats are already discussing the necessity of choosing a leader who will win for them the support of the voters who cast their ballots for LaFollette, together with those who may at the end of four years want a change from Republican rule.

To the average man the mention of 1928 may seem premature and academic. But unfortunately it isn't. Members of Congress look far ahead politically and vote and act in respect to the legislation with an idea of what will prove wise for 1926—the next congressional election—and 1928, the next presidential contest. One-third of the membership of the Senate changes in two years and the primary campaigns of some of these men will be on in a year and a

Ford Elected by 498 Over Frazier

M. E. Ford was elected state senator from this senatorial district, composed of Nodaway, Atchison, Worth and Gentry Counties, by a majority of 498 over his opponent, Ed G. Frazier, Republican, of Rock Port. Mr. Ford carried every county in the district with the exception of Worth County, which he lost by 18 votes.

The vote follows:

	Ford	Frazier
Nodaway	6256	6058
Atchison	2783	2683
Worth	1641	1659
Gentry	3227	3009
Total	13,907	13,409

Ford's majority, 498.

The vote for Nodaway County is official, while the vote from the other counties are unofficial returns. In Gentry County the vote includes all precincts except three precincts, which would increase the lead of Mr. Ford.

Hold Four Boys for Murder of Playmate

New York, Nov. 8.—Four boys from the same boy scout troop, just about old enough to take their first interest in out-of-doors, guns and hunting, waited today arraignment on a charge of killing their playmate, Ernest Schwer, 13 years old. Their confession and aid in finding the body in a brush-filled pit where the terror-stricken boys had thrown it, ended a ten-day search by police.

If their ages permit, police declared today that charges of homicide will be filed against Ernest's four companions.

Miss Thelma Tobin of DeQueen, Ark., granddaughter of Mrs. M. Tobin of Maryville, has been invited to accompany an excursion of the Arkansas traveling exposition as one of the state's queens. The following excerpt is clipped from an account of a recent meeting of the DeQueen Rotary club:

REPUBLICAN DOMINATION.

"The reason why" is the main topic of discussion by Democrats of the country now. One of Nodaway County's faithful few blossoms forth with what he deems to be the original reason.

"There are just too many Republican husbands," he says. "And nowadays a Republican husband most always means a G. O. P. better half.

"Why I know one case where a wife wanted to vote the Democratic ticket and her husband shut her up in the cellar at 6 o'clock in the morning and kept her there until the polls closed.

"That's the reason why."

MILITARY LEADERS PLANNING REVOLT

PRESIDENT-ELECT CALLES IS THREATENED

CHIEFS MAKE DEMANDS

Securities for Personal Benefits are Asked—Details for Uprising are All Complete

El Paso, Nov. 8—Mexico was threatened today with a military revolt which may prevent President-elect Calles from taking office unless he gives some pledges to leading army officials, the ring-leaders of the anti-Calles movement, it was learned today from documents smuggled out of Mexico City to avoid the censorship.

If the revolt comes to an actual head, the military chiefs may succeed without causing any bloodshed. The movement, according to reliable sources, does not involve civilians, but is being engineered entirely by army officers. Plans for the uprising have been completed in detail, but before taking any definite steps, a revolutionary committee will wait upon President-elect Calles to ask for certain declarations of securities. If the President-elect consents, there will be no uprising. If he does not, everything is in readiness for the blow.

MUCH INTEREST IN TOURNAMENT TODAY

ELEVEN BOYS' AND NINE GIRLS' TEAMS ENTERED.

FINAL GAMES TONIGHT

Semi-Finals In Both Divisions Are Being Played Off In High School Gymnasium This Afternoon.

Eleven boys basketball teams and nine girls' teams are battling in the high school gymnasium today for the championship of Nodaway County in both divisions.

A large and enthusiastic crowd jammed the room to capacity to cheer on the aggregations from the respective high schools in the county.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon, Pickering was playing Conception Junction boys in the semi-final division. The winner of this game will play the winner of the Ravenwood-Hopkins game. The victor in this game will play the winner of the Elmo-Guilford game for the grand championship in the boys' division.

Pickering was leading Conception Junction by a 11 to 5 count at the end of the first half of the boys' game in the semi-final round being played this afternoon.

Hopkins and Ravenwood boys will also play in the semi-finals after the Pickering-Conception Junction game is over.

Skidmore and Hopkins girls will play in the semi-final round this afternoon.

The Nodaway County basketball tournament, which is being played today, has finished the first round of the tournament schedule. Some exceptional fast basketball has been shown in the boys' games and the winners of these contests have emerged with only a slight lead. In the girls' contest the games are more one-sided and show the superior playing of the winners.

In the last game of the first round played this afternoon, the Guilford boys won from the Parnell boys 25 to 8. It was a very good game.

In one of the semi-final games in the girls' tournament, the Parnell team nosed out the Guilford sextette by a 9 to 6 score. It was a hotly contested game from the first whistle until the last, and the guarding of both teams was exceptionally good.

The Hopkins and Ravenwood boys will play in the semi-final rounds this afternoon. The Hopkins and Skidmore girls are also in the semi-finals.

A large crowd from all over the county is present at the tournament at the high school. Dubin of Bedford is referee of the girls' games and Hann of Burlington Junction officiates in the boys' contests.

One of the surprises of the tournament was the defeat of the Skidmore boys in the clash with Ravenwood in the morning round. The Parnell girls and the Elmo girls appear to be the leading contenders for the girls' championship. Pickering and Guilford are favorites in the boys' tournaments.

MARYVILLE WINS FROM WESTBORO

BULLETIN.

Game over: Maryville 25, Westboro 0.

In the middle of the final period of the Maryville-Westboro High School football game being played this afternoon, the local gridders were in the lead 25 to 0.

The second Maryville touchdown was made at the beginning of the fourth quarter when Miller skirted left end for a 40 yard run down the field and across the goal line. Goal was kicked.

Two minutes later, he intercepted a Westboro pass on Maryville's 33 yard line and ran down the field, shaking off tacklers, and finally sprinted across the goal line. The kick for the extra point failed. Miller's touchdown in this instance was made possible by the work of Felix Brown, Maryville right end, who spiked off a Westboro tackle right on the goal line.

I. Miller plunged off tackle for eight yards and the fourth Maryville touchdown after the ball hed been worked down within scoring distance in the latter part of the final period. Miller failed to kick goal, and the score was 25 to 0 with Maryville on the long end.

THIRD PARTY NOT IN DEFINITE FORM

TWO CONFERENCES WILL DECIDE ITS FATE.

MAY "BORE IN" ON OLD

Washington, Nov. 8.—The future of the LaFollette third party as a factor in American politics is distinctly uncertain.

This much can be stated on the authority of those most intimately connected with it. One of the little group of leaders who fought and went down with LaFollette declared they are not willing to bury their hope of a strong independent and liberal third party. On the other hand, they are more determined than ever that the efforts and money expended in this campaign shall not have been in vain.

Two general conferences to be held in December and January will largely determine their future course.

There are some labor leaders identified with LaFollette who feel that the independent cause can best be served by abandoning any efforts to form a real third party. Their intention is to "bore from within" both of the parties to secure labor's ends along the lines of economic legislation.

These leaders point out that by concentrating in electing their friends in the old parties, like Senator Brookhart for example, they can do more in a shorter time than by forming a new party.

Cabinet Changes are Rumored in Capital

Hughes Reported Ready to Step Aside for Harvey or Warren—Mondell May Head Interior Department.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Numerous reports of cabinet changes continued here today without any confirmation in official quarters. Secretary Hughes was said to be ready to step aside on March 4 to make way for either Col. George Harvey, editor of the Washington Post and former ambassador to Great Britain or Charles B. Warren, former ambassador to Japan and Mexico. Frank Mondell is slated for the post of Secretary of Interior, according to reports.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY.

Jefferson City and Cole county are to have a Republican prosecuting attorney and a Democratic sheriff. Maybe each will try to outdo the other in cleaning up the capitol and accomplish wonders and, on the other hand, maybe they will fall out or play politics and do nothing.

While the electoral vote given Mr. Coolidge in the election this week is large, it is by no means the largest in recent history. There have been a number of landslides, some one way and some another since 1896. Mr. Wilson had 435 electoral votes in 1912 which is the largest in the period mentioned. In 1896, McKinley had 271 to 176 for Mr. Bryan; in 1900 McKinley had 292 to 155 fro Bryan; in 1904, Roosevelt had 336 while Parker carried only 140; in 1908; Taft got 321 and Bryan 162; in 1912 the situation was more than reversed. Wilson carried 435 electoral votes, Roosevelt 88 and Taft only 8; in 1916, Wilson got 277 and Hughes 254 and then came the landslide of 1920 when Harding was given 404 votes and Cox only 127.

The vote for governor of Missouri shows how important a few votes may be in a close state. It probably wouldn't be at all difficult to find five or ten thousand people who did not vote. It is very likely that the Republicans got out a much more complete vote than their Democratic opponents. They realized their possibilities when Governor Hadley was elected and have kept their organization in good working order ever since. If the Democrats ever expect to regain control of this state, they will have to forget the old time majorities they used to get and make up their minds that they have a real job on their hands if they want to carry this state, and go about perfecting an organization, as the Republicans have done, like they mean business.

RED CROSS YEAR'S COST $21,366,255

Nearly $12,000,000 Devoted to Helping Victims of Great Japanese Earthquake.

OVER 3,000 BUSY CHAPTERS

Aid to Disabled War Veterans Paramount and Reaches Nearly $4,000,000.

Washington.—More than $21,000,000 was the total of funds expended in all activities of the American Red Cross during the last fiscal year, ended June 30, says a statement issued by the National organization. This expenditure was almost one-sixth of the amount of money disbursed by the Red Cross in the war year, July, 1917, to June, 1918. Of this extraordinary sum $11,631,303 was America's contribution to the Red Cross for relief of the Japanese earthquake victims. This was increased to $11,768,803 by appropriations from general funds of the Red Cross, and it represented probably the largest spontaneous outpouring of beneficence of a single nation in the history of the world.

Over 3,000 active Chapters expended during the year $4,869,000, the National organization disbursed $16,497,255.35, making the total $21,366,255.35—all for humanitarian work which reached practically around the world.

In announcing the year's record of American Red Cross industry the executive officials at Washington emphasize the fact that the extensive and never-halting work of the Red Cross depends almost wholly upon the nation-wide support of the organization from the memberships enrolled during the annual roll call which this year will be in progress from Nov. 11 to 27, when everyone is asked to join or renew their membership in the American Red Cross.

Soldier Service Paramount

Service in behalf of the disabled veterans of the World War and their families is a paramount obligation of the Red Cross. The organization, through its Chapters, is constantly in touch with this duty in 2,609 communities throughout the United States—the Chapters alone during the year expending in service for veterans about $2,000,000. The National organization expended $1,735,825—a total of $3,735,825 applied to assisting war sufferers toward recovery from disability and distress.

This work is constant in hospitals, sanitariums, camps, soldiers' homes, in the community. For example, in helping disabled men and women in places where they were transient residents $173,076 from national funds alone was required to help solve their problems. Every Red Cross service is ever at hand ready to meet the individual need of these men and women.

The enlisted men in the Regular Army, the Navy, and the Marine Corps, with their home ties, mean a never-ending Red Cross service which figures cannot fully interpret. In this work a total of $685,285 was applied in meeting an obligation under the Red Cross charter which has been fulfilled for over 20 years.

Domestic Operations Extensive

In the past year Red Cross operations were almost wholly confined to continental United States and the insular possessions. Relief work following disasters called for immediate activities in 192 places and a total of $737,603.87 was spent in this service alone. In 33 major disasters trained workers were kept at the work of rehabilitation for many months.

In carrying on the health activities a total of $444,886.66 from Red Cross national funds, and $808,000 from Chapter treasuries—appropximately $1,252,886 in all—was applied, giving some idea of the extent of Red Cross service in the fields of public health nursing, nutrition instruction, and spreading knowledge of personal hygiene and care of the sick in the home.

For advancing the cause of human safety, the First Aid instruction, locally by Chapters and over extensive national territory by the Red Cross instruction car covering trunk line railroads, and in teaching water-safety and increasing the membership of the Red Cross Life-Saving Corps, the total cost was $288,234.71, of which $216,234.71 came out of national funds.

Army of Over 5,500,000

The Junior Red Cross in the schools — with over 5,500,000 in its "I Serve" ranks—was aided with $233,510.78 to which it is estimated the Chapters added some $277,000—a total of $510,510,78. In various other domestic activities the Red Cross spent $283,473.19, and the Chapters in their numerous voluntary services expended an additional $1,048,000 during the year.

Foreign obligations, aside from Japan, were met with national funds as follows: Relief of refugees in Greece, $200,887.18; Junior Red Cross projects, $99,579.75; League of Red Cross Societies, $165,000; other insular and foreign work, $221,855.31. The American Red Cross budget for 1924-25 is $4,647,790.85, or $868,286.96 less than the budget for the year ended last June 30.

In good deeds for all peoples in time of distress the American Red Cross never rests. Help this work with your membership dollar—join on Armistice Day.

Victors In Tuesday's National Election

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE & GENERAL DAWES

Fifty Years Ago

(Taken from the Nodaway Democrat, Nov. 5, 1874.)

Dr. Mulholland returned from St. Louis last Friday night where he has been absent buying a stock of goods to fit up his new drug store in the Baker block.

The Democracy will have a grand ratification meeting on this Thursday evening at the courthouse in this city. Let every Democrat turn out and glorify over our recent victories.

The Christian Church of this city has secured the services of Elder Bush of Afton, Ia., as pastor for the ensuing year. He will preach his introductory sermon next Lord's Day at the church in this place.

Postmaster Geiger is entitled to a long credit mark for the fine manner in which he has fitted up and enlarged our new postoffice in Union Block, he having added a large number of lock boxes to the heretofore limited number. The office now has some 450 boxes and drawers, making it with its other first class accommodations, a postoffice that would reflect honor on a place of 20,000 population.

Dr. Morrison has moved his office into the elegant south room, on second floor, of the Fisher, Jackson & Co., bank building.

Elder Cook, who has been pastor of the Christian Church in this city during the past two years, preached his farewell sermon last Sunday evening.

The Tracey Bros., formerly of St. Joe, having leased the desirable business house of Dr. Mulholland on Main street will open up to the public in a few days an extensive stock of dry goods and groceries.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

The following are the winners in the county Tuesday and their majorities: Roosevelt, president, 504; Walbridge, governor, 167; Fulkerson, congressman, 386; Ellison, circuit judge, 491; Peck, state senator, 231; Lemon, representative, 347; Conlin, judge south district, 363; Staples, judge north district, 63; Funk, prosecuting attorney, 125; Covey, treasurer, 39; Miller, surveyor, 295; Curnutt, public administrator, 380; Dr. Todd, coroner, 416.

Maryville will have a special election Nov. 15 on a sewer bond proposition.

The new lodge room of White Cloud Lodge No. 92, I. O. O. F., will soon be finished. White Cloud Lodge has a membership of about 175.

The stay at home vote in Nodaway county was probably 600 to 800.

The pure election committee, composed of Republicans Garrett, Parle and Wray, and Democrats Colden, Dawson and Cook, did good work. It was a quiet, orderly, free from boodling election.

Judge Ellison ran over 2,000 votes ahead of his ticket in this judicial district. His majority in district is about 650.

MT. JOY SCHOOL ITEMS.

District 139.

We have just received our quarterly reports. Some good grades greeted our eyes, while others were low. We hope to do better in the next two months.

We wish to thank the school board for the World Books recently added to our library. We find them to be a great help in our work.

We have just finished checking and listing the books in our library. Marjorie Wohlford has been appointed librarian for this quarter.

We planned and carried out a successful surprise on our teacher last Tuesday. The occasion being her birthday. At noon the patrons of the district gathered at the school. A delicious dinner was served by the ladies. In the afternoon a program was given by the pupils of the school. Later spelling and ciphering contests were held.

We have a holiday Tuesday as our schoolhouse is used for the election polls in this township.

half. If the Democrats decide to attempt a real coalition with the insurgent Republicans for the benefit of the next campaign, they will lay their plans now.

Coalition Possible.

While the Coolidge electoral votes came from the west as well as the east and even included some of the border states where conservatism is entrenched, the addition of the LaFollette and Davis popular votes in the states west of the Mississippi river show that the margin for Coolidge would have been closer had these two parties combined, than was the case in the east. The Democrat opportunity doesn't seem to lie in the east. Nor does it appear that the labor vote in industrial centers of the east are of sufficient strength to win over the rural districts. LaFolletteism made little impression on the farmers of the eastern states.

Turning to the west it is apparent that not only did the Democrats in large numbers go over to the LaFollette standard, but that many Republicans went to the third party ticket. The big independent group of voters as a rule decided elections in the west. There is nothing to show that LaFollette got a bigger slice of that group than President Coolidge. All the Democrats can note from the results is that had they combined with LaFollette or had there been nominated a Democrat who could have appealed to the LaFollette faction the race would have been closer in the west and the south would have gone along as usual.

Under the circumstances the Republicans having gathered virtually all the conservatives, the next move in American politics will be an effort to make the Democratic party, a liberal if not ultra-radical opposition to the Republicans. And if they win converts in congress these will come from western Republicans who think such a course conforms to the will of the west.

RED CROSS IS URGING BETTER-HEALTH BATTLE

Not alone in preparedness for emergencies, but in a tireless offensive battle for better health is the American Red Cross nurse maintaining in peace time the high tradition of her war service. As in war, the same self-effacing service for humanity goes on its quiet, effective way content in its accomplishments, seeking no public acclaim. Enrolled in the Red Cross Nursing Service are 40,636 of these missioners of health, nearly 1,000 carrying the message of a finer public health to as many communities and 1,100 teaching large classes in home hygiene and care of the sick. Exactly 100 Red Cross nurses are still on duty overseas, helping the struggle forward toward the high standard of American nurse efficiency in many countries.

In the Government services 3,117 enrolled Red Cross nurses are on duty with the Army, Navy, Public Health Service and the Veterans Bureau, while the entire active enrollment is maintained as a reserve for the Army Nurse Corps and available to the Navy in a national defense emergency. Nine hundred nurses were added to the roll the last year.

Red Cross nursing, however, has perhaps its finest expression out in the places laid waste by fire, flood and storm, and in the back reaches far from the centers of population. In every disaster the Red Cross nurse is first called for, first to respond, and the last to leave her post of duty among the suffering victims. In the isolated sections of Alaska, North Carolina, Virginia, Idaho, and among the bleak islands of Penobscott Bay, Me., her ministrations are making hard lives easier and working for a brighter future for the children. Her part in the human drama of the time is increasingly important, although it is subdued by the very nature of her work.

The policy of the American Red Cross to establish under Chapter control public health nursing services in communities lacking such facilities has been justified and this pioneering work is everywhere endorsed by authorities who are quick to take it over as a proper municipal function and a duty of taxpayers. The Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick program has further penetrated into the schools as a definite part of curriculums. During the year 29,000 school pupils took this Red Cross course. Three telephone corporations adopted it and graduated 960 employe students.

As good health depends upon right eating the Red Cross Nutrition Service continued to promote individual and community health, particularly the health of mothers and children. This service reached nearly 150,000 persons during the year and found work to do for several thousand Red Cross volunteer workers.

Red Cross Fighting First Aid Battle To Conserve Life

Reliable records establish the fact that more than 75,000 accidental deaths occur every year in the United States. The records show that 206 American citizens are killed every day; that 38 of these deaths are due to automobiles, 35 to falls, 19 to drownings, 16 to burns.

Facing such distressing sacrifice of life is the First Aid Service of the American Red Cross, fighting through education and demonstration to instill a conciousness of safety in the public mind and teaching approved methods which assure that competent hands will care for injured persons until the arrival of doctors. Trained service in the first few minutes is vital in serious accidents and saves many precious lives.

One of the most encouraging signs of the past year is the record of the Red Cross First Aid Insurance Car No. 1 which traveled 9,700 miles along trunk lines, stopping at 137 places. The car's staff of surgeons gave 911 demonstrations to audiences composed of 42,150 railroad men, 71,000 high school and college students, 13,000 industrial workers, 2,000 members of clubs, and nearly 18,000 policemen, firemen, and other municipal employes, a total of 147,000.

Red Cross First Aid certificates were conferred upon 13,865 persons who took the course last year, an increase of 4,000 over 1923. Telephone, gas and electric companies, public service corporations and other large employers of the country adopted the Red Cross course, and their team contests everywhere were witnessed by huge crowds with as much interest as develops at popular athletic games.

In the industrial field the growth of First Aid practice to fight to reduce preventable accidents and unnecessary loss of life has received wide recognition. The promise of an unprecendented advance in this fine cause lies in the evidence of the great strides systematic instruction in First Aid has made throughout the country through the Red Cross Chapters and the the work of the experts in this service under direction of the national organization.

Sign the American Red Cross roll this year for humanity's sake.

INFLICT 9 TO 0 DEFEAT TO MULES

BEARCATS STAGE A COMEBACK YESTERDAY.

I. EADS DOES SCORING

By Straight Football Local Teachers Win Their Third Conference Game of Season.

Webster says that the Bearcat is an animal that infests Asia, but yesterday afternoon the College Bearcat was in his own lair and clawed the widely known Warrensburg Mule to a trimming of 9 to 0, the first defeat that has been administered to the Mules by a conference team this season, the team that annihilated the Springfield Bear to a 7 to 0 drubbing.

The proteges of Coach H. Frank Lawrence and Paul Jones, staged a comeback after the defeat at the hand of the Northeastern Teacher Bulldogs and yesterday on the College Field outplayed the formidable Mules, except in the aerial attack and this in form of football the local Teachers did not attempt more than a couple of times.

What ere may be said of yesterday's wrangle between the highly different types of animals represented on the gridiron it was a contest far superior in nearly every way to any game that has been staged here this year. Both teams were striving at all times to outdo the other and the consequence of the struggle determined whether the Mules would go on unmolested towards a conference championship, or whether the pupils of Coach Lawrence would halt the Mules and place themselves in line for a tie at the top of the M. I. A. A. column, and if dealt with kindly by Lady Luck from the results of the other conference games to be played by the other four members, slid into position to demand recognition as the title holder.

The long end runs of Willoughby, Eads and Masters; the off tackle smashes by these three men and Ogden; and then the tense moments when the Warrensburg half back White would focus his eye on his right end and hurl the pigskin from 10 to 50 yards, only to have the Maryville backs knock it down or intercept it, were all features that made the game an interesting one to witness. Also the gasps of the Bearcat rooters when the Warrensburg combination of White to Whiteman for 15 to 20 yards on a completed pass in the third quarter, held the crowd breathless and the one attempt that almost resulted in a touchdown for the Mules, but the receiver lost his hold on the oval just as he crossed the Bearcat line.

To do justice to both teams it must be said that the lines charged exactly in rythm with the back-field, but it was the Maryville line that held at the critical plays which forced Warrensburg to punt.

A touchdown from the kickoff for the Bearcats was apparent when right half Ikey Eads skirted toward the south side of the field and eluded the Mules, but only to have the play called back, as he stepped outside the line at two points, only by inches.

Maryville carried the fight in the Warrensburg territory most of the first period. An intercepted pass threw a scare into the Maryville section, when a Warrensburg man raced towards the Bearcat goal line, but he was apprehended and the Bearcat line held the onrushing Mules.

The same held true in the second quarter. About 30 seconds before the timekeeper's gun sounded the end of the first half, Ikey Eads again came into limelight, as he did in the Springfield game, and his accurate right foot shot the ball over the goal post for three points, by means of a place kick.

It was in the third spasm that the Mules threatened and completed two passes for 35 yards, and after halted and forced to kick repeated the same tactics after Maryville punted out of danger. Ogden intercepted a pass but with only a foot to goal Maryville had to release possession of the ball and on the fourth down Warrensburg punted to their own 40 yard line. From then on it was a steady march down the field, first by end runs and line smashes that brought the ball to Warrensburg's 4 yard line, with 2 downs to go. On the third down Eads shot over the line for the first and only touchdown of the game. He failed to kick goal for extra point. The score then stood Maryville 9, Warrensburg 0 during the remaining five minutes of play in which Coach Lawrence made several substitutions.

Five games won out of six starts is the record for the Bearcats. Yesterday the Northwest Teachers concluded their conference season, winning three and losing one game. The other two games that confront the Teachers are stiff battles, the first with Buena Vista College of Storm Lake, Ia., which has a record of a defeat over Morningside of Sioux City, 24 to 6, and the last game of the schedule, the ancient and renowned foe from Tarkio. Both games are to be played here.

Summary: Yardage gained, Maryville 202; Warrensburg 73 yards; forward passes: Warrensburg tried 12 and completed 4 for 45 yards; Maryville intercepted 2 passes. Penalties, Warrensburg penalized 30 yards, Maryville penalized 35 yards. Punts, Warrensburg 9 for 410 yards; Maryville 4 for 152 yards. Losses, Maryville 15 yards, Warrensburg 12 yards. Cameron Wins From Maysville H. S. 18-0

Cameron, Mo., Nov. 8. — Although considerably outweighed, the Cameron high eleven with every man playing stellar football sent the Maysville gridders down to their first defeat in two years here yesterday afternoon, 18 to 0.

The Cameron aggregation completely outplayed the visiting team, allowing Maysville within their 20 yard line only once during the game, and keeping the ball in the visitor's territory nearly all the time. Maysville made only four first downs.

Leach carried the pigskin across the visitor's goal line early in the second quarter after a series of off-tackle plunges and end runs took the ball to within the shadow of the Maysville goal.

The second score came when Gall snagged a long pass from Silvius and wriggled through the Maysville secondary defense for a touchdown in the third quarter.

Leach also was responsible for the final score, when he intercepted a Maysville pass in the final period and raced 40 yards through the entire Maysville team to end up smiling behind the visitor's goal posts.

Offett and Gall, ends, and Parks, captain and tackle, were the mainstays of the local aggregation's defense. In the matter of punts, McGee and Crow for Cameron out-distanced Duse of Maysville by a slight margin.

Grandview School Won B. B. Tourney

The Grandview basketball team won the county championship of Gentry county yesterday when they defeated the Gentry team last night by a score of 42 to 13. By winning this game, the Grandview team will represent Gentry county in the district basketball tourney at the State Teachers College.

W. A. Powers, formerly of Quitman, is superintendent of the Grandview Consolidated district. Eldon Steiger of Ravenwood, is the coach of the Grandview team. Mr. Steiger attended the State Teachers College here.

Missouri Wesleyan Beats Tarkio, 13-6

Tarkio, Mo., Nov. 8. — Two touchdowns in the first 10 minutes of play gave Missouri Wesleyan a 13-to-6 victory over Tarkio here yesterday. Tarkio's score came late in the fourth period.

Loose playing in the first quarter permitted Wesleyan to score twice on passes and fast end runs by Barrett, quarterback.

Although outweighed 15 pounds to the man, the Tarks rallied in the second period making remainder of game a well-matched contest. Passing by both sides featured the game. Tarkio completed one flip for 50 yards and another for 30 from Milcher, quarter, to Wood, end. Captain Barr, tackle, and Edwards, halfback, starred for Tarkio. Warren C. Giles of St. Joseph refereed and Morton of Omaha was umpire.

Senator Lodge Still Is Holding His Own

Physicians and Surgeons Are Amazed At Veteran Senator's Vitality—Have Hopes for Recovery.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 8.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge's condition this morning was said to be unchanged since midnight. Late last night, a bulletin was issued from the hospital, holding out some slight hope for his recovery. Attending physicians and surgeons were amazed at the veteran Senator's vitality. They said early today he had retained yesterday's gains.

Not a Practical Joke

When David E. Moulton of Portland, Maine, emerged from the home of a friend, where he had been calling and found his car, which he had left standing at the curb, a mass of whitewash inside and out, he thought it was a low-down, practical joke and notified the police, who investigated. And then the mystery evaporated, for it developed that there had been a fire next door, and the chemical hose had burst and enveloped the Moulton car.

Savannah in Win Over Tarkio High 27 to 6

Savannah, Mo., Nov. 8.—Displaying the most effective line-plunging attack shown this season, the light Savannah backfield yesterday afternoon plowed through the heavier Tarkio high line for four touchdowns and victory, 27 to 6.

The Savannah backs made three of their touchdowns in the first half of the game and the fourth came early in the third period. Tarkio's lone touchdown was made in the final quarter.

Only Two Contests in Valley Today

Kansas City, Nov. 8. — Only two Missouri Valley conference football games are scheduled for today, Kansas going to Des Moines to play Drake and Missouri playing Oklahoma at Norman.

Kansas, inspired by its 48-to-0 victory over Washington university of St. Louis last Saturday, will make a determined effort to put an end to Drake's record of no defeats this season. Drake holds the exclusive position of being the only conference team that has neither been beaten nor scored against. Kansas has lost three close games, but its record so far this season of 65 points scored to 33 made by opponents and its comeback last Saturday leaves doubt as to whether Drake will have much of an advantage at the start of today's game.

Missouri and Oklahoma both have lost one conference game this season, but Missouri has won two and Oklahoma one. This, however, does not add so much to Missouri's stock when it is considered that Missouri last Saturday lost to Nebraska, 14 to 6, and that Oklahoma defeated Nebraska early in the season.

Two Missouri Valley teams play non-conference elevens. Iowa State vs. Minnesota, at Minneapolis and Washington vs. James Millikin, at St. Louis.

Kirksville Teachers Beat Central 27-0

Kirksville, Mo., Nov. 8.—Kirksville Teachers College Bulldogs defeated the Central college Eagles, 27 to 0, here yesterday. Not once did Central threaten the Bulldogs' goal, although the Eagles fought hard every minute of the game. Streeter, Kirksville, was the star.

P. B. A. Widener, 2d, son of the Philadelphia traction millionaire, and his bride, the former Mrs. Gertrude T. Douglas Peabody, are shown as they sailed from New York for their honeymoon. They will make their home on the Elkins estate near Philadelphia upon their return.

King City High Eleven Defeats Ridgeway

King City, Mo., Nov. 8.—The King City Wildcats defeated the Ridgeway eleven here this afternoon, 20 to 7. It was the first game the Wildcats have won at home, although they have been successful in several games in other towns.

Ridgeway scored a touchdown in the first quarter and kicked goal. King City tied the count in the second period. Paul Standlea made a long run around end in this half. In the third quarter Clyde Punks, captain and left tackle for the Wildcats, picked up a fumble and ran 20 yards for a touchdown. Clevenger made a place kick for goal. In the fourth quarter Claude Standlea carried the ball over the line, but King City failed in the effort to kick goal. The defensive playing of Clevenger was one of the features.

Catherine Rush

Medical annals have seldom recorded so rare a case of longevity as that of Catherine Rush, who died in Philadelphia on May 1, 1817, at the age of one hundred and eleven years and eleven months. So far is is known Catherine Rush had lived on the outskirts of Philadelphia all her life, and no one was particularly interested in her until she reached the age of one hundred, having been a very frail girl. When she passed the one-hundred-year mark physicians began to watch her. They kept up their watching for nearly twelve years. It was Catherine Rush's greatest desire, when she felt the end coming, to round out one hundred and twelve years. She failed of it by one month.—Chicago Journal.

Traced to Archimedes

The word "Eureka" is said to have been uttered by Archimedes (287-212 B. C.), the Greek philosopher, when the principle of specific gravity first dawned upon him. It is said that the thought first came to him while in the bath, and that he fled half-clad through the streets of Syracuse to his home, shouting, "I have found it! I have found it!" The problem that had been given him to solve was to determine whether a golden crown made for Hiero, king of Syracuse, had been alloyed with silver. This the king had suspected, and the philosopher afterwards proved it to be true.

Alexandrian Pharos

Pharos was the name of an island in the harbor of Alexandria. Here Ptolemy I, who had been one of the generals of Alexander the Great, decided to build a gigantic lighthouse. The work was finally completed during the reign of Ptolemy Philadelphus. The structure was 450 feet high and 100 feet square at the base. At the summit was kept a beacon fire which, according to the historian, Josephus, could be seen over forty miles away. Part of this famous lighthouse was blown down in the Eighth century. The ruin was completed by earthquakes in 1303 and 1346.

How Should Water Taste?

Although the palatability of water is largely a matter of individual taste, there are objectionable tastes in water that can be ascribed definitely to either chemicals such as iron, chlorine or an alkali, decaying vegetation, microscopical organism or pollution by trade wastes, etc. When tanks or reservoirs become contaminated from any of these causes the cheapest and easiest way is to clean out the container and start with a new supply, though copper sulphate or chlorine properly used are very effective in controlling organisms in such reservoirs.

RECORD DISASTER YEAR KEPT RED CROSS BUSY

In 192 Places in United States Its Relief Operations Cost $737,603.

One hundred and ninety-two disasters resulting in 735 deaths and injury to 1,932 persons, rendering nearly 44,000 homeless and causing property losses estimated at more than $44,750,000, established a new record in the United States in the year ended last June 30, according to reports of the American Red Cross. In all of these disasters immediately relief activity was applied by the Red Cross, which expended $737,603.37 through the national organization and the local Chapters in assisting stricken communities.

As the nation's chief relief agency, whose service covers over 43 years, the Red Cross is expected to be on duty almost as soon as disaster strikes any locality. This trust and confidence is amply justified by the increasing equipment of the Red Cross, which recently organized a mobile disaster unit of experienced workers ready in all parts of the country to respond on the instant to a call for active duty. This unit is capable of operating in several disaster areas under one general direction, and recently was at work in seven communities in five states at the same time.

Ability, alertness and increasing skill of volunteer workers in more than 3,500 Chapters are reasons for the preparedness of Red Cross for disaster operations, be the call for a disturbance in a restricted local area or for millions in relief funds for a staggering catastrophe such as the earthquake in Japan.

The Red Cross, however, is far from being self-satisfied, for the organization is giving the most serious consideration to measures for preventing disasters. Its relief administration and rehabilitation policies have won for it nation-wide regard. That this important work can always measure up to every demand needs the continued support of the American people through Red Cross membership. The annual enrollment will begin Armistice Day, November 11, and every American is urged to join or renew membership in the Red Cross.

IRONY

I always wanted
A little carved bowl
With grapes on its edges
And gilt on the whole,
And a daffodil garden
And a singing soul.

I wanted gold rings
And silken dress
And a friend who knew
What no others could guess,
And a very great
Gold happiness.

I never have had
A silken gown,
And no gold happiness
Ever came down
To be my shelter,
And my shining crown.

Nor a daffodil garden
Nor a singing soul,
Nor ever a friend
Who knew me whole,
But today someone gave me
A little carved bowl.
—Margaret Wilson, in Harper's.

Mystery Fish Caught Off Icelandic Coast

The British museum authorities have notified the curator of the Hull Museum of Fisheries that a strange fish caught off the Icelandic coast by a Hull trawler and landed at Hull is apparently unknown to science. There is nothing like it in the national collection.

The fish is one yard in length. The flesh is very soft and flabby, and the head is after the type of a halibut. Its entire surface is covered with sharp and hard conical spines resembling white ivory. The skin is coal black.

Its tail resembles a gloved hand with eight fingers, between each of which is a thin web. In the center of the back is a rodlike feature with a tassel-shaped structure. At its end is a red flesh ball, which, according to the experts, is used as a bait to draw smaller fish near so that they can be snapped in the powerful jaws.

Mill's Motive Power Dependent on Rain

Houghton, in Lancashire, can boast what is probably the only cotton mill in Britain which is run by waterpower.

The mill is three stories high, contains 100 looms, and is worked by thirty weavers and their assistants.

The only time during which anxiety overtakes the mill owners and the employees is the time of drought. Little rain means little power. There have been times in a hot summer when the weavers have only worked an hour and a half a day—the stream has stopped.

Yet, so far as this mill is concerned, water has beaten steam and electricity

He Should Worry

A returning reveller was vainly trying to get his latchkey in his front door when a good-natured passerby offered to do it for him. Taking the key, the stranger gave the lock a violent twist and snapped the key in half, leaving the end in the door.

"I say, I'm awfully sorry," he explained; "quite an accident, you know, but I've broken your key."

"Washat?" murmured the reveller.

IMAGINATION

He—The girl I marry must have imagination.

She—Goodness! I've got it. Whenever you fail to come over for an evening I imagine you're out with another dame.

Feathers His Undoing

Following a trail of feathers from a devastated hen coop a constable of Ely, England, came to the home of Robert W. Crabb. "What have you for dinner?" asked the constable. "Roast beef," replied Crabb. But the constable thought he could smell chicken cooking, so he investigated and found two dressed chickens in the oven. The fowls were not served to Crabb in the town jail.

Bound in Human Skin

The man who recently announced his desire to bequeath his skin to his friends for the purpose of bookbinding is not so original as might be thought. An acquaintance of M. Flammarion had beautiful shoulders, on which he had complimented her, and on her death she left the skin to him as a legacy. He used it for the binding of his "Ciel et Terre."

Stage-Struck Donkey

A donkey in a Boston amateur performance of "Veronique" refused to leave the stage and had to be carried off.

When Her Anger Had Subsided

By HUGHES MEARNS

(© by Doubleday, Page & Co.)

MRS. LASELLI was in a contrite mood. She had just come from a meeting of the Parents' association of the Washington high school where she had been led into a public confession. The principal had introduced a psychologist to the meeting, a fine voiced, magnetic gentleman, who would confer with parents and talk with them about youth and all the new ways of learning. He had asked questions in the most intimate of persuasive tones; and almost before Mrs. Laselli had been aware of it, she found herself speaking out before all the American mothers and telling how she had just scolded her child and had sent her to bed for saying a coarse word.

And now she knew that she should not have done that. "You may get seeming obedience," the psychologist had told her sympathetically, "but your child is not obeying with her mind. Deep within her is a storm of rebellion; it will rage—deep within her—and when it breaks forth later, as it is sure to do, you may wish you had reasoned with her, really persuader her, and so have won her to you." And the picture he painted of the possible evil consequences of her harsh treatment was very terrifying.

But there were ways of making amends, he pointed out; and Mrs. Laselli was hurrying home to meet her daughter, Beatrice, and save her from herself.

"Where you been all day so late when you have got from school early, hey?" Mrs. Laselli began in the old threatening tones, but caught herself instantly and laughed, a rather startling laugh, and added: "Out wit' dose Dutch Lasher kids, huh? Havin' a good time, huh? Dat's a' right, Beatrice. Have a good time when you're young. You was out wit' de Lasher kids, huh?"

Beatrice nodded. The mother did not notice the troubled, watchful face.

Mrs. Laselli sat down and beamed at her daughter. Then she launched into the speech of reconciliation. She had been all wrong to scold her and send her to bed for saying a bad word. Young American kids were different. In the old country they beat them and then what?—all the kids cut out from home at the first chance and let the old mothers and fathers take care of themselves. Or they got locked up or went to the bad. Now she wasn't going to be that way any more; Mrs. Laselli was going to be kind.

"You have a good time, yes, wit' dose Dutch Lasher kids, huh, Beatrice?" The mother smiled radiantly.

"Oh, mother!" Beatrice burst suddenly into weeping and cast herself on her knees and buried her head in the capacious lap. "I wasn't out with the Lashers."

"What!" The mother bristled suspiciously. "Den w'at you lie to me for, hey?"

But Beatrice did not hear the question. She was sobbing, but some of it was for joy that her mother would at last understand. "It was Joe," she said at last, raising a troubled wet face.

"Yes," Beatrice went on eagerly, hungry for the chance to confess; "I have been meeting him after school. Nothing wrong, you understand, mother. Just meeting and standing and talking, him joshing me and me having fun, you know. . . . And always he has been wanting me to walk out in the park, and I was afraid. . . . Didn't know why, but I was. And he kept at me, called me cowardy-cat. And I said I wasn't a cowardly-cat. And he dared me. And so today I went. And oh, mother," she buried her face again, "he grabbed me and tried to kiss me, and I beat his face with my hands—I was afraid to scream for fear someone would see me and tell—and I broke away and ran and ran—it was dark—until I got home and I could hardly get up the steps and I was so scared. And, oh, mother, I wasn't going to tell you, but—"

Beatrice found herself on the floor with the violent shove that Mrs. Laselli had put into her blazing indignation. From there she looked up in dazed surprise. Mrs. Laselli was shrieking at her.

"You go out wit' dat Joe, hey! And disgrace yourself wit' huggin' an' kissin' an' all dat in de park, hey! W'at kind o' daughter is it you're bein', hey! In de park! An' wit' dat good-for-not'in, Joe! Up to your room wit' you right off quick, before I take a stick an' beat you so you never go out wit' boys again! Up, I say! To bed you go, and stay, you low, good-for-not'in until I say you get out again! . . . Out o' here quick before I beat your head for you!"

And late that night, when the fires of anger had subsided, Mrs. Laselli thought suddenly of the soft voice of the psychologist; she saw his thoughtful eyes looking so kindly into hers; and a terrible fear smote her so that her knees shook and she had to sit abruptly down.

After a moment she rose, steadied herself with an effort, went out into the hall and listened. There came no sound from upstairs, but the light was burning fiercely in Beatrice's room. Mrs. Laselli hurried up the stairs as if with fear that she might be too late.

BAKER MAINTAINS LEAD OVER NELSON

TWO PROPOSALS SAFE

Senate Will Be Controlled By Democrats, House By Republicans, 77 To 64.

St. Louis, Nov. 8.—After mounting and dropping throughout the day, the lead of Sam A. Baker, Republican candidate for governor, over his Democratic opponent, on the face of returns compiled late last night stood at 10,192 with only 51 of the state's 4,080 precincts yet to be heard from. Baker's majority at one time during the day had climbed to 11,277 due to an error found in the tabulation of the vote in one of the St. Louis wards.

With additional official and unofficial returns from various counties coming in, his lead changed continually but always remaining 11,000 and upward. It is considered certain, however, that this lead will assure him his election, provided no material errors, unfavorable to the Republican candidate, are discovered in the recount.

Others In Also.

Returns from 85 per cent of the precincts of the state received last night established majorities for the remainder of the Republican state candidates, which apparently assures their election.

The hotly contested districts votes for judge of the Kansas City court of appeals, appeared to give a victory to the Democratic candidate, F. H. Trimble, over Nelson E. Johnson, Republican. Returns from 1,478 out of the 1,689 precincts, gave: Trimble 247,654; Johnson, 233,819.

Additional returns from the sixteen congressional districts failed to affect materially the majorities of the nine Democratic and seven Republican leaders.

Eleven Democrats and six Republicans were chosen in the seventeen odd numbered state senatorial districts, representing a gain of four for the Democrats. In the next senate, seats will be held by 23 Democrats and 11 Republicans.

With the returns in from rural districts throughout the day, expressing a decidedly unfavorable vote on the whole for the amendments and initiative proposals, amendments 1, 2 and 6 appeared doomed to defeat by overwhelmingly negative majorities.

Two Proposals Safe.

But two proposals, numbers 5 and 7, the road measure and the proposed expansion of St. Louis City into St. Louis county, appeared certain of adoption.

The determined negative expression placed proposal No. 4, though showing an affirmative majority of 38,338 in jeopardy, according to the ratio of negative returns pouring in. Amendment No. 3 and proposal No. 8 were also placed in the doubtful column on the basis of these returns, though both showed affirmative majorities.

The count on other state officers stood:

State treasurer: 3,432 precincts give Stephens (R) 569,749; Stone (D) 521,415. Majority 48,334.

For judge of the supreme court, division No. 1: 3,466 precincts give Atwood (R) 582,794; Blair (D) 525,994. Majority 56,800.

For judge of the Kansas City court of appeals: 1,478 precincts out of 1,689 give Johnson (R) 233819; Trimble (D) 247,654. Majority 13,835.

For judge of the Springfield court of appeals: 657 precincts out of 1,044 give Bailey (R) 88,314; Farrington (D) 75,633. Majority 12,681.

For judge of the St. Louis court of appeals: 1,222 precincts out of 1,336 give Nipper (R) 224,125; Allen (D) 177,171. Majority 46,954.

The Republicans gained at least 13 seats in the Missouri house of representatives as the result of Tuesday's election and will control the house by a safe majority.

With reports from all but nine of the 150 representative districts, the Republicans had elected 77 and the Democrats 64. The missing counties in the old house were represented by three Republicans and six Democrats. This would be insufficient, however,

Below: MRS. NELLIE T. ROSS & AL SMITH.

Mrs. Miriam A. ("Ma") Ferguson, of Temple, Tex., has been elected Governor of Texas, the first woman so to be honored. Early returns indicated that Mrs. Nellie T. Ross, widow of the late Governor of Wyoming, had been elected to succeed him. Mrs. Florence E. H. Knapp, dean of economics of Syracuse (N. Y.) University, was elected Republican Secretary of State of New York, but Governor Alfred E. Smith, Democrat, was re-elected, despite the Coolidge landslide.

Shenandoah Wlil Have Only One Paper

According to yesterday's Shenandoah World, Shenandoah will have only one daily paper effective November 10. The World had the following about it:

The directors of the World Publishing Company and the Sentinel-Post Publishing Company have effected a consolidation which becomes effective Monday, Nov. 10, by which there will be but one newspaper published in this city, a daily. It will be known as the "World-Sentinel," or the "Sentinel-World," the tri-weekly Sentinel-Post to be discontinued and the subscription credits to be applied on the new daily.

In the consolidation of the newspapers the community will receive a much better service than they have ever had ,and better than any of the surrounding cities are receiving. One good newspaper is more valuable to a community than two could ever be. The one paper will cover the field, will be a better medium for the advertiser and save him money. It will likewise be better for the subscriber and we predict in this consolidation, with the publication of a good independent paper, the entire community will benefit.

ALREADY TALKING M'ADOO FOR 1928

CANDIDATE NEEDED TO UNITE ALL FACTIONS.

THIRD PARTY UNPOPULAR

But Coalition of Democrats and Progressive Republicans Would Form Formidable Opposition to G.O.P.

By David Lawrence.
Special Correspondent of the Democrat-Forum.
(Copyright 1924).

Special Leased Wire.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Hope springs eternal in the Democratic breast and nothing appears more significant than the recurrent talk of William G. McAdoo for 1928. Instead of accepting the defeat of Tuesday as a verdict for conservatism, the Democrats are regarding it as the result of their own bad tactics.

This has more than passing importance as a post mortem. It shows what the Democrats are likely to try to do next. For the more they examine the election returns the more they are convinced that LaFollette was the cause of their defeat. Just as Roosevelt in 1912 proved the nemesis of the Republican party, so LaFollette without perhaps intending it, assisted materially in placing a conservative in power.

Immediately after 1912, the Republicans especially those who supported Roosevelt, saw the unwisdom of keeping the party divided and then reunited in 1916. Even Colonel Roosevelt was so anxious to defeat the Democrat administration in 1916 despite the appeal of a staunch battalion of Bull Moosers, he refused to be a third party candidate again. Will Robert M. LaFollette and his followers still stick to their plan of forming this winter a third party organization? The railroad brotherhoods and the American Federation of Labor and the other groups which lent their support to LaFollette now see that a continuance of their struggle against conservative doctrine will be futile unless they absorb the whole Democratic party or permit themselves to be absorbed by it.

Old Parties Best.

There always is a momentum to the established parties. In both Ohio and New York there were no outstanding third party candidates for governor, the Democratic candidate —Governor Donahey and Governor Smith—won out by comfortable majorities notwithstanding the tremendous pluralities given Coolidge. In New York the vote given to Norman Thomas, candidate for governor would have gone to Al Smith as in previous elections and the only lesson of the New York state contest is that Smith, if beaten, would have been able to attribute to some extent his defeat to the loss of the few votes that might otherwise have gone to him.

Labor Defeated.

Labor stands at the close of the campaign defeated in its first serious attempt to back a presidential candidate. Friction inside labor's ranks throughout the campaign when so many of the leaders insisted on going to Davis indicates that some of the chieftains recognized that the LaFollette campaign was merely dividing their own ranks.

The talk of McAdoo for 1928 may never mean his nomination. He will be 64 years old then and as a rule candidates for president do not win the nomination at that age though LaFollette's advanced age was not often talked about in the campaign. The mention of McAdoo does mean that the Democrats are already discussing the necessity of choosing a leader who will win for them the support of the voters who cast their ballots for LaFollette, together with those who may at the end of four years want a change from Republican rule.

To the average man the mention of 1928 may seem premature and academic. But unfortunately it isn't. Members of Congress look far ahead politically and vote and act in respect to the legislation with an idea of what will prove wise for 1926—the next congressional election—and 1928, the next presidential contest. One-third of the membership of the Senate changes in two years and the primary campaigns of some of these men will be on in a year and a

Ford Elected by 498 Over Frazier

M. E. Ford was elected state senator from this senatorial district, composed of Nodaway, Atchison, Worth and Gentry Counties, by a majority of 498 over his opponent, Ed G. Frazier, Republican, of Rock Port. Mr. Ford carried every county in the district with the exception of Worth County, which he lost by 18 votes.

The vote follows:

	Ford	Frazier
Nodaway	6256	6058
Atchison	2783	2683
Worth	1641	1659
Gentry	3227	3009
Total	13,907	13,409

Ford's majority, 498.

The vote for Nodaway County is official, while the vote from the other counties are unofficial returns. In Gentry County the vote includes all precincts except three precincts, which would increase the lead of Mr. Ford.

Hold Four Boys for Murder of Playmate

New York, Nov. 8.—Four boys from the same boy scout troop, just about old enough to take their first interest in out-of-doors, guns and hunting, waited today arraignment on a charge of killing their playmate, Ernest Schwer, 13 years old. Their confession and aid in finding the body in a brush-filled pit where the terror-stricken boys had thrown it, ended a ten-day search by police.

If their ages permit, police declared today that charges of homicide will be filed against Ernest's four companions.

Miss Thelma Tobin of DeQueen, Ark., granddaughter of Mrs. M. Tobin of Maryville, has been invited to accompany an excursion of the Arkansas traveling exposition as one of the state's queens. The following excerpt is clipped from an account of a recent meeting of the DeQueen Rotary club:

"President Charlie Goff read a letter from the managers of the Arkansas traveling exposition, soon to visit the cities of the north and east, inviting Miss Thelma Tobin to accompany the excursion as one of the Arkansas' queens. This invitation is a sequel to Miss Tobin's selection as one of the most beautiful girls in Arkansas and her entertainment at the State Fair."

C. F. Remus accompanied Major Raynor to the Friar school.

REPUBLICAN DOMINATION.

"The reason why" is the main topic of discussion by Democrats of the country now. One of Nodaway County's faithful few blossoms forth with what he deems to be the original reason.

"There are just too many Republican husbands," he says. "And nowadays a Republican husband most always means a G. O. P. better half.

"Why I know one case where a wife wanted to vote the Democratic ticket and her husband shut her up in the cellar at 6 o'clock in the morning and kept her there until the polls closed.

"That's the reason why."

MILITARY LEADERS PLANNING REVOLT

PRESIDENT-ELECT CALLES IS THREATENED

CHIEFS MAKE DEMANDS

Securities for Personal Benefits are Asked—Details for Uprising are All Complete

El Paso, Nov. 8—Mexico was threatened today with a military revolt which may prevent President-elect Calles from taking office unless he gives some pledges to leading army officials, the ring-leaders of the anti-Calles movement, it was learned today from documents smuggled out of Mexico City to avoid the censorship.

If the revolt comes to an actual head, the military chiefs may succeed without causing any bloodshed. The movement, according to reliable sources, does not involve civilians, but is being engineered entirely by army officers. Plans for the uprising have been completed in detail, but before taking any definite steps, a revolutionary committee will wait upon President-elect Calles to ask for certain declarations of securities. If the President-elect consents, there will be no uprising. If he does not, everything is in readiness for the blow.

MUCH INTEREST IN TOURNAMENT TODAY

ELEVEN BOYS' AND NINE GIRLS' TEAMS ENTERED.

FINAL GAMES TONIGHT

Semi-Finals In Both Divisions Are Being Played Off In High School Gymnasium This Afternoon.

Eleven boys basketball teams and nine girls' teams are battling in the high school gymnasium today for the championship of Nodaway County in both divisions.

A large and enthusiastic crowd jammed the room to capacity to cheer on the aggregations from the respective high schools in the county.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon, Pickering was playing Conception Junction boys in the semi-final division. The winner of this game will play the winner of the Ravenwood-Hopkins game. The victor in this game will play the winner of the Elmo-Guilford game for the grand championship in the boys' division.

Pickering was leading Conception Junction by a 11 to 5 count at the end of the first half of the boys' game in the semi-final round being played this afternoon.

Hopkins and Ravenwood boys will also play in the semi-finals after the Pickering-Conception Junction game is over.

Skidmore and Hopkins girls will play in the semi-final round this afternoon.

The Nodaway County basketball tournament, which is being played today, has finished the first round of the tournament schedule. Some exceptional fast basketball has been shown in the boys' games and the winners of these contests have emerged with only a slight lead. In the girls' contest the games are more one-sided and show the superior playing of the winners.

In the last game of the first round played this afternoon, the Guilford boys won from the Parnell boys 25 to 8. It was a very good game.

In one of the semi-final games in the girls' tournament, the Parnell team nosed out the Guilford sextette by a 9 to 6 score. It was a hotly contested game from the first whistle until the last, and the guarding of both teams was exceptionally good.

The Hopkins and Ravenwood boys will play in the semi-final rounds this afternoon. The Hopkins and Skidmore girls are also in the semi-finals.

A large crowd from all over the county is present at the tournament at the high school. Dubin of Bedford is referee of the girls' games and Hann of Burlington Junction officiates in the boys' contests.

One of the surprises of the tournament was the defeat of the Skidmore boys in the clash with Ravenwood in the morning round. The Parnell girls and the Elmo girls appear to be the leading contenders for the girls' championship. Pickering and Guilford are favorites in the boys' tournaments.

MARYVILLE WINS FROM WESTBORO

BULLETIN.

Game over: Maryville 25, Westboro 0.

In the middle of the final period of the Maryville-Westboro High School football game being played this afternoon, the local gridders were in the lead 25 to 0.

The second Maryville touchdown was made at the beginning of the fourth quarter when Miller skirted left end for a 40 yard run down the field and across the goal line. Goal was kicked.

Two minutes later, he intercepted a Westboro pass on Maryville's 33 yard line and ran down the field, shaking off tacklers, and finally sprinted across the goal line. The kick for the extra point failed. Miller's touchdown in this instance was made possible by the work of Felix Brown, Maryville right end, who spiked off a Westboro tackle right on the goal line.

I. Miller plunged off tackle for eight yards and the fourth Maryville touchdown after the ball had been worked down within scoring distance in the latter part of the final period. Miller failed to kick goal, and the score was 25 to 0 with Maryville on the long end.

THIRD PARTY NOT IN DEFINITE FORM

TWO CONFERENCES WILL DECIDE ITS FATE.

MAY "BORE IN" ON OLD

Washington, Nov. 8.—The future of the LaFollette third party as a factor in American politics is distinctly uncertain.

This much can be stated on the authority of those most intimately connected with it. One of the little group of leaders who fought and went down with LaFollette declared they are not willing to bury their hope of a strong independent and liberal third party. On the other hand, they are more determined than ever that the efforts and money expended in this campaign shall not have been in vain.

Two general conferences to be held in December and January will largely determine their future course.

There are some labor leaders identified with LaFollette who feel that the independent cause can best be served by abandoning any efforts to form a real third party. Their intention is to "bore from within" both of the parties to secure labor's ends along the lines of economic legislation.

These leaders point out that by concentrating in electing their friends in the old parties, like Senator Brookhart for example, they can do more in a shorter time than by forming a new party.

Cabinet Changes are Rumored in Capital

Hughes Reported Ready to Step Aside for Harvey or Warren—Mondell May Head Interior Department.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Numerous reports of cabinet changes continued here today without any confirmation in official quarters. Secretary Hughes was said to be ready to step aside on March 4 to make way for either Col. George Harvey, editor of the Washington Post and former ambassador to Great Britain or Charles B. Warren, former ambassador to Japan and Mexico. Frank Mondell is slated for the post of Secretary of Interior, according to reports.

Republican Jubilee Proves Costly to 2

Fayettville, Ark., Nov. 8.—George Moody of Westfork is dead and a deputy sheriff, James Gardner, is in the hospital here as a result of an attempted celebration with dynamite of the Republican victory by Moody. A blast of the explosion tore away Moody's left hand, and it was also necessary to amputate one of his legs. Gardner's body was badly torn and he is not expected to live.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY.

Jefferson City and Cole county are to have a Republican prosecuting attorney and a Democratic sheriff. Maybe each will try to outdo the other in cleaning up the capitol and accomplish wonders and, on the other hand, maybe they will fall out or play politics and do nothing.

While the electoral vote given Mr. Coolidge in the election this week is large, it is by no means the largest in recent history. There have been a number of landslides, some one way and some another since 1896. Mr. Wilson had 435 electoral votes in 1912 which is the largest in the period mentioned. In 1896, McKinley had 271 to 176 for Mr. Bryan; in 1900 McKinley had 292 to 155 fro Bryan; in 1904, Roosevelt had 336 while Parker carried only 140; in 1908; Taft got 321 and Bryan 162; in 1912 the situation was more than reversed. Wilson carried 435 electoral votes, Roosevelt 88 and Taft only 8; in 1916, Wilson got 277 and Hughes 254 and then came the landslide of 1920 when Harding was given 404 votes and Cox only 127.

The vote for governor of Missouri shows how important a few votes may be in a close state. It probably wouldn't be at all difficult to find five or ten thousand people who did not vote. It is very likely that the Republicans got out a much more complete vote than their Democratic opponents. They realized their possibilities when Governor Hadley was elected and have kept their organization in good working order ever since. If the Democrats ever expect to regain control of this state, they will have to forget the old time majorities they used to get and make up their minds that they have a real job on their hands if they want to carry this state, and go about perfecting an organization, as the Republicans have done, like they mean business.

RED CROSS YEAR'S COST $21,366,255

Nearly $12,000,000 Devoted to Helping Victims of Great Japanese Earthquake.

OVER 3,000 BUSY CHAPTERS

Aid to Disabled War Veterans Paramount and Reaches Nearly $4,000,000.

Washington.—More than $21,000,000 was the total of funds expended in all activities of the American Red Cross during the last fiscal year, ended June 30, says a statement issued by the National organization. This expenditure was almost one-sixth of the amount of money disbursed by the Red Cross in the war year, July, 1917, to June, 1918. Of this extraordinary sum $11,631,303 was America's contribution to the Red Cross for relief of the Japanese earthquake victims. This was increased to $11,768,803 by appropriations from general funds of the Red Cross, and it represented probably the largest spontaneous outpouring of beneficence of a single nation in the history of the world.

Over 3,000 active Chapters expended during the year $4,869,000, the National organization disbursed $16,497,255.35, making the total $21,366,255.35—all for humanitarian work which reached practically around the world.

In announcing the year's record of American Red Cross industry the executive officials at Washington emphasize the fact that the extensive and never-halting work of the Red Cross depends almost wholly upon the nation-wide support of the organization from the memberships enrolled during the annual roll call which this year will be in progress from Nov. 11 to 27, when everyone is asked to join or renew their membership in the American Red Cross.

Soldier Service Paramount

Service in behalf of the disabled veterans of the World War and their families is a paramount obligation of the Red Cross. The organization, through its Chapters, is constantly in touch with this duty in 2,609 communities throughout the United States—the Chapters alone during the year expending in service for veterans about $2,000,000. The National organization expended $1,735,825—a total of $3,735,825 applied to assisting war sufferers toward recovery from disability and distress.

This work is constant in hospitals, sanitariums, camps, soldiers' homes, in the community. For example, in helping disabled men and women in places where they were transient residents $173,076 from national funds alone was required to help solve their problems. Every Red Cross service is ever at hand ready to meet the individual need of these men and women.

The enlisted men in the Regular Army, the Navy, and the Marine Corps, with their home ties, mean a never-ending Red Cross service which figures cannot fully interpret. In this work a total of $685,285 was applied in meeting an obligation under the Red Cross charter which has been fulfilled for over 20 years.

Domestic Operations Extensive

In the past year Red Cross operations were almost wholly confined to continental United States and the insular possessions. Relief work following disasters called for immediate activities in 192 places and a total of $737,603.87 was spent in this service alone. In 33 major disasters trained workers were kept at the work of rehabilitation for many months.

In carrying on the health activities a total of $444,886.66 from Red Cross national funds, and $808,000 from Chapter treasuries—appropximately $1,252,886 in all—was applied, giving some idea of the extent of Red Cross service in the fields of public health nursing, nutrition instruction, and spreading knowledge of personal hygiene and care of the sick in the home.

For advancing the cause of human safety, the First Aid instruction, locally by Chapters and over extensive national territory by the Red Cross instruction car covering trunk line railroads, and in teaching water-safety and increasing the membership of the Red Cross Life-Saving Corps, the total cost was $288,234.71, of which $216,234.71 came out of national funds.

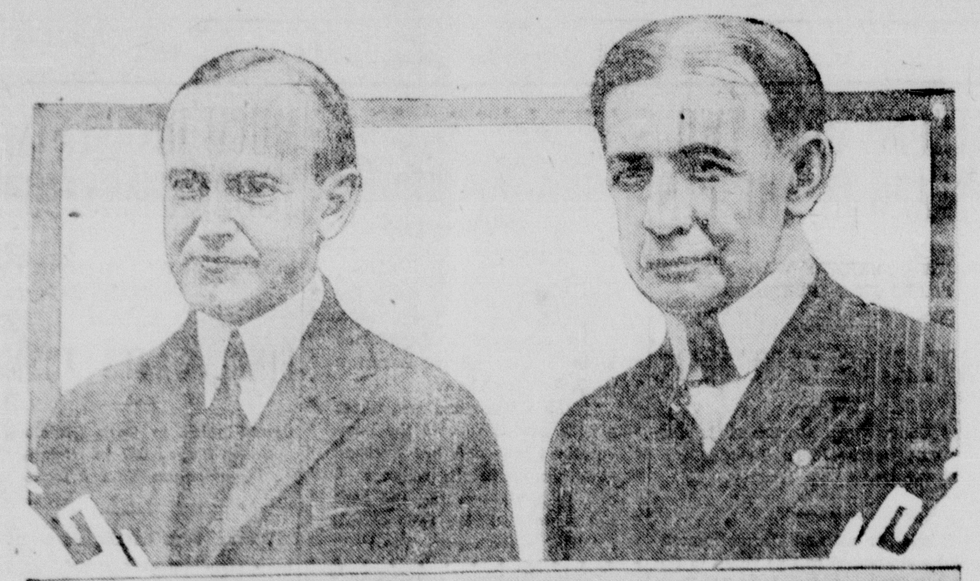
Army of Over 5,500,000

The Junior Red Cross in the schools — with over 5,500,000 in its "I Serve" ranks—was aided with $233,510.78 to which it is estimated the Chapters added some $277,000—a total of $510,510.78. In various other domestic activities the Red Cross spent $283,473.19, and the Chapters in their numerous voluntary services expended an additional $1,048,000 during the year.

Foreign obligations, aside from Japan, were met with national funds as follows: Relief of refugees in Greece, $200,887.18; Junior Red Cross projects, $99,579.75; League of Red Cross Societies, $165,000; other insular and foreign work, $221,855.31. The American Red Cross budget for 1924-25 is $4,647,790.85, or $868,286.96 less than the budget for the year ended last June 30.

In good deeds for all peoples in time of distress the American Red Cross never rests. Help this work with your membership dollar—join on Armistice Day.

Victors In Tuesday's National Election



PRESIDENT COOLIDGE & GENERAL DAWES

Fifty Years Ago

(Taken from the Nodaway Democrat, Nov. 5, 1874.)

Dr. Mulholland returned from St. Louis last Friday night where he has been absent buying a stock of goods to fit up his new drug store in the Baker block.

The Democracy will have a grand ratification meeting on this Thursday evening at the courthouse in this city. Let every Democrat turn out and glorify over our recent victories.

The Christian Church of this city has secured the services of Elder Bush of Afton, Ia., as pastor for the ensuing year. He will preach his introductory sermon next Lord's Day at the church in this place.

Postmaster Gelger is entitled to a long credit mark for the fine manner in which he has fitted up and enlarged our new postoffice in Union Block, he having added a large number of lock boxes to the heretofore limited number. The office now has some 450 boxes and drawers, making it with its other first class accommodations, a postoffice that would reflect honor on a place of 20,000 population.

Dr. Morrison has moved his office into the elegant south room, on second floor, of the Fisher, Jackson & Co., bank building.

Elder Cook, who has been pastor of the Christian Church in this city during the past two years, preached his farewell sermon last Sunday evening.

The Tracey Bros., formerly of St. Joe, having leased the desirable business house of Dr. Mulholland on Main street will open up to the public in a few days an extensive stock of dry goods and groceries.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

The following are the winners in the county Tuesday and their majorities: Roosevelt, president, 504; Walbridge, governor, 167; Fulkerson, congressman, 386; Ellison, circuit judge, 491; Peck, state senator, 231; Lemon, representative, 317; Conlin, judge south district, 363; Staples, judge north district, 63; Funk, prosecuting attorney, 125; Covey, treasurer, 39; Miller, surveyor, 295; Curnutt, public administrator, 380; Dr. Todd, coroner, 416.

Maryville will have a special election Nov. 15 on a sewer bond proposition.

The new lodge room of White Cloud Lodge No. 92, I. O. O. F., will soon be finished. White Cloud Lodge has a membership of about 175.

The stay at home vote in Nodaway county was probably 600 to 800.

The pure election committee, composed of Republicans Garrett, Parle and Wray, and Democrats Colden, Dawson and Cook, did good work. It was a quiet, orderly, free from boodling election.

Judge Ellison ran over 2,000 votes ahead of his ticket in this judicial district. His majority in district is about 650.

MT. JOY SCHOOL ITEMS.

District 139.

We have just received our quarterly reports. Some good grades greeted our eyes, while others were low. We hope to do better in the next two months.

We wish to thank the school board for the World Books recently added to our library. We find them to be a great help in our work.

We have just finished checking and listing the books in our library. Marjorie Wohlford has been appointed librarian for this quarter.

We planned and carried out a successful surprise on our teacher last Tuesday. The occasion being her birthday. At noon the patrons of the district gathered at the school. A delicious dinner was served by the ladies. In the afternoon a program was given by the pupils of the school. Later spelling and ciphering contests were held.

We have a holiday Tuesday as our schoolhouse is used for the election polls in this township.

half. If the Democrats decide to attempt a real coalition with the insurgent Republicans for the benefit of the next campaign, they will lay their plans now.

Coalition Possible.

While the Coolidge electoral votes came from the west as well as the east and even included some of the border states where conservatism is entrenched, the addition of the La-Follette and Davis popular votes in the states west of the Mississippi river show that the margin for Coolidge would have been closer had these two parties combined, than was the case in the east. The Democrat opportunity doesn't seem to lie in the east. Nor does it appear that the labor vote in industrial centers of the east are of sufficient strength to win over the rural districts. La-Folletteism made little impression on the farmers of the eastern states.

Turning to the west it is apparent that not only did the Democrats in large numbers go over to the LaFollette standard, but that many Republicans went to the third party ticket. The big independent group of voters as a rule decided elections in the west. There is nothing to show that LaFollette got a bigger slice of that group than President Coolidge. All the Democrats can note from the results is that had they combined with LaFollette or had there been nominated a Democrat who could have appealed to the LaFollette faction the race would have been closer in the west and the south would have gone along as usual.

Under the circumstances the Republicans having gathered virtually all the conservatives, the next move in American politics will be an effort to make the Democratic party, a liberal if not ultra-radical opposition to the Republicans. And if they win converts in congress these will come from western Republicans who think such a course conforms to the will of the west.

RED CROSS IS URGING BETTER-HEALTH BATTLE

Not alone in preparedness for emergencies, but in a tireless offensive battle for better health is the American Red Cross nurse maintaining in peace time the high tradition of her war service. As in war, the same self-effacing service for humanity goes on its quiet, effective way content in its accomplishments, seeking no public acclaim. Enrolled in the Red Cross Nursing Service are 40,636 of these missioners of health, nearly 1,000 carrying the message of a finer public health to as many communities and 1,100 teaching large classes in home hygiene and care of the sick. Exactly 100 Red Cross nurses are still on duty overseas, helping the struggle forward toward the high standard of American nurse efficiency in many countries.

In the Government services 3,117 enrolled Red Cross nurses are on duty with the Army, Navy, Public Health Service and the Veterans Bureau, while the entire active enrollment is maintained as a reserve for the Army Nurse Corps and available to the Navy in a national defense emergency. Nine hundred nurses were added to the roll the last year.

Red Cross nursing, however, has perhaps its finest expression out in the places laid waste by fire, flood and storm, and in the back reaches far from the centers of population. In every disaster the Red Cross nurse is first called for, first to respond, and the last to leave her post of duty among the suffering victims. In the isolated sections of Alaska, North Carolina, Virginia, Idaho, and among the bleak islands of Penobscott Bay, Me., her ministrations are making hard lives easier and working for a brighter future for the children. Her part in the human drama of the time is increasingly important, although it is subdued by the very nature of her work.

The policy of the American Red Cross to establish under Chapter control public health nursing services in communities lacking such facilities has been justified and this pioneering work is everywhere endorsed by authorities who are quick to take it over as a proper municipal function and a duty of taxpayers. The Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick program has further penetrated into the schools as a definite part of curriculums. During the year 29,000 school pupils took this Red Cross course. Three telephone corporations adopted it and graduated 960 employe students.

As good health depends upon right eating the Red Cross Nutrition Service continued to promote individual and community health, particularly the health of mothers and children. This service reached nearly 150,000 persons during the year and found work to do for several thousand Red Cross volunteer workers.

Reliable records establish the fact that more than 75,000 accidental deaths occur every year in the United States. The records show that 206 American citizens are killed every day; that 38 of these deaths are due to automobiles, 35 to falls, 19 to drownings, 16 to burns.

Facing such distressing sacrifice of life is the First Aid Service of the American Red Cross, fighting through education and demonstration to instill a conciousness of safety in the public mind and teaching approved methods which assure that competent hands will care for injured persons until the arrival of doctors. Trained service in the first few minutes is vital in serious accidents and saves many precious lives.

One of the most encouraging signs of the past year is the record of the Red Cross First Aid Insurance Car No. 1 which traveled 9,700 miles along trunk lines, stopping at 137 places. The car's staff of surgeons gave 911 demonstrations to audiences composed of 42,150 railroad men, 71,000 high school and college students, 13,000 industrial workers, 2,000 members of clubs, and nearly 18,000 policemen, firemen, and other municipal employes, a total of 147,000.

Red Cross First Aid certificates were conferred upon 13,865 persons who took the course last year, an increase of 4,000 over 1923. Telephone, gas and electric companies, public service corporations and other large employers of the country adopted the Red Cross course, and their team contests everywhere were witnessed by huge crowds with as much interest as develops at popular athletic games.

In the industrial field the growth of First Aid practice to fight to reduce preventable accidents and unnecessary loss of life has received wide recognition. The promise of an unprecendented advance in this fine cause lies in the evidence of the great strides systematic instruction in First Aid has made throughout the country through the Red Cross Chapters and the the work of the experts in this service under direction of the national organization.

Sign the American Red Cross roll this year for humanity's sake.

INFLICT 9 TO 0 DEFEAT TO MULES

BEARCATS STAGE A COMEBACK YESTERDAY.

I. EADS DOES SCORING

By Straight Football Local Teachers Win Their Third Conference Game of Season.

Webster says that the Bearcat is an animal that infests Asia, but yesterday afternoon the College Bearcat was in his own lair and clawed the widely known Warrensburg Mule to a trimming of 9 to 0, the first defeat that has been administered to the Mules by a conference team this season, the team that annihilated the Springfield Bear to a 7 to 0 drubbing.

The proteges of Coach H. Frank Lawrence and Paul Jones, staged a comeback after the defeat at the hand of the Northeastern Teacher Bulldogs and yesterday on the College Field outplayed the formidable Mules, except in the aerial attack and this in form of football the local Teachers did not attempt more than a couple of times.

What ere may be said of yesterday's wrangle between the highly different types of animals represented on the gridiron it was a contest far superior in nearly every way to any game that has been staged here this year. Both teams were striving at all times to outdo the other and the consequence of the struggle determined whether the Mules would go on unmolested towards a conference championship, or whether the pupils of Coach Lawrence would halt the Mules and place themselves in line for a tie at the top of the M. I. A. A. column, and if dealt with kindly by Lady Luck from the results of the other conference games to be played by the other four members, slid into position to demand recognition as the title holder.

The long end runs of Willoughby, Eads and Masters; the off tackle smashes by these three men and Ogden; and then the tense moments when the Warrensburg half back White would focus his eye on his right end and hurl the pigskin from 10 to 50 yards, only to have the Maryville backs knock it down or intercept it, were all features that made the game an interesting one to witness. Also the gasps of the Bearcat rooters when the Warrensburg combination of White to Whiteman for 15 to 20 yards on a completed pass in the third quarter, held the crowd breathless and the one attempt that almost resulted in a touchdown for the Mules, but the receiver lost his hold on the oval just as he crossed the Bearcat line.

To do justice to both teams it must be said that the lines charged exactly in rythm with the back-field, but it was the Maryville line that held at the critical plays which forced Warrensburg to punt.

A touchdown from the kickoff for the Bearcats was apparent when right half Ikey Eads skirted toward the south side of the field and eluded the Mules, but only to have the play called back, as he stepped outside the line at two points, only by inches.

Maryville carried the fight in the Warrensburg territory most of the first period. An intercepted pass threw a scare into the Maryville section, when a Warrensburg man raced towards the Bearcat goal line, but he was apprehended and the Bearcat line held the onrushing Mules.

The same held true in the second quarter. About 30 seconds before the timekeeper's gun sounded the end of the first half, Ikey Eads again came into limelight, as he did in the Springfield game, and his accurate right foot shot the ball over the goal post for three points, by means of a place kick.

It was in the third spasm that the Mules threatened and completed two passes for 35 yards, and after halted and forced to kick repeated the same tactics after Maryville punted out of danger. Ogden intercepted a pass but with only a foot to goal Maryville had to release possession of the ball and on the fourth down Warrensburg punted to their own 40 yard line. From then on it was a steady march down the field, first by end runs and line smashes that brought the ball to Warrensburg's 4 yard line, with 2 downs to go. On the third down Eads shot over the line for the first and only touchdown of the game. He failed to kick goal for extra point. The score then stood Maryville 9, Warrensburg 0 during the remaining five minutes of play in which Coach Lawrence made several substitutions.

Five games won out of six starts is the record for the Bearcats. Yesterday the Northwest Teachers concluded their conference season, winning three and losing one game. The other two games that confront the Teachers are stiff battles, the first with Buena Vista College of Storm Lake, Ia., which has a record of a defeat over Morningside of Sioux City, 24 to 6, and the last game of the schedule, the ancient and renowned foe from Tarkio. Both games are to be played here.

Summary: Yardage gained, Maryville 202; Warrensburg 73 yards; forward passes: Warrensburg tried 12 and completed 4 for 45 yards; Maryville intercepted 2 passes. Penalties, Warrensburg penalized 30 yards, Maryville penalized 35 yards. Punts, Warrensburg 9 for 410 yards; Maryville 4 for 152 yards. Losses, Maryville 15 yards, Warrensburg 12 yards. Substitutes: Maryville, Wyman for Moentman, H. England for Eads, Asheroft for Willoughby, Fowler for Stone, Fouts for Fowler, Peoples for Young. Warrensburg, Ramsey for McCoy.

Cameron Wins From Maysville H. S. 18-0

Cameron, Mo., Nov. 8. — Although considerably outweighed, the Cameron high eleven with every man playing stellar football sent the Maysville gridders down to their first defeat in two years here yesterday afternoon, 18 to 0.

The Cameron aggregation completely outplayed the visiting team, allowing Maysville within their 20 yard line only once during the game, and keeping the ball in the visitor's territory nearly all the time. Maysville made only four first downs.

Leach carried the pigskin across the visitor's goal line early in the second quarter after a series of off-tackle plunges and end runs took the ball to within the shadow of the Maysville goal.

The second score came when Gall snagged a long pass from Silvius and wriggled through the Maysville secondary defense for a touchdown in the third quarter.

Leach also was responsible for the final score, when he intercepted a Maysville pass in the final period and raced 40 yards through the entire Maysville team to end up smiling behind the visitor's goal posts.

Offett and Gall, ends, and Parks, captain and tackle, were the mainstays of the local aggregation's defense. In the matter of punts, McGee and Crow for Cameron out-distanced Duse of Maysville by a slight margin.

Missouri Wesleyan Beats Tarkio, 13-6

Tarkio, Mo., Nov. 8. — Two touchdowns in the first 10 minutes of play gave Missouri Wesleyan a 13-to-6 victory over Tarkio here yesterday. Tarkio's score came late in the fourth period.

Loose playing in the first quarter permitted Wesleyan to score twice on passes and fast end runs by Barrett, quarterback.

Although outweighed 15 pounds to the man, the Tarks rallied in the second period making remainder of game a well-matched contest. Passing by both sides featured the game. Tarkio completed one flip for 50 yards and another for 30 from Milcher, quarter, to Wood, end. Captain Barr, tackle, and Edwards, halfback, starred for Tarkio. Warren C. Giles of St. Joseph refereed and Morton of Omaha was umpire.

They said early today he had retained yesterday's gains.

Not a Practical Joke

When David E. Moulton of Portland, Maine, emerged from the home of a friend, where he had been calling and found his car, which he had left standing at the curb, a mass of whitewash inside and out, he thought it was a low-down, practical joke and notified the police, who investigated. And then the mystery evaporated, for it developed that there had been a fire next door, and the chemical hose had burst and enveloped the Moulton car.

Savannah in Win Over Tarkio High 27 to 6

Savannah, Mo., Nov. 8.—Displaying the most effective line-plunging attack shown this season, the light Savannah backfield yesterday afternoon plowed through the heavier Tarkio high line for four touchdowns and victory, 27 to 6.

The Savannah backs made three of their touchdowns in the first half of the game and the fourth came early in the third period. Tarkio's lone touchdown was made in the final quarter.

Only Two Contests in Valley Today

Kansas City, Nov. 8. — Only two Missouri Valley conference football games are scheduled for today, Kansas going to Des Moines to play Drake and Missouri playing Oklahoma at Norman.

Kansas, inspired by its 48-to-0 victory over Washington university of St. Louis last Saturday, will make a determined effort to put an end to Drake's record of no defeats this season. Drake holds the exclusive position of being the only conference team that has neither been beaten nor scored against. Kansas has lost three close games, but its record so far this season of 65 points scored to 33 made by opponents and its comeback last Saturday leaves doubt as to whether Drake will have much of an advantage at the start of today's game.

Missouri and Oklahoma both have lost one conference game this season, but Missouri has won two and Oklahoma one. This, however, does not add so much to Missouri's stock when it is considered that Missouri last Saturday lost to Nebraska, 14 to 6, and that Oklahoma defeated Nebraska early in the season.

Two Missouri Valley teams play non-conference elevens. Iowa State vs. Minnesota, at Minneapolis and Washington vs. James Millikin, at St. Louis.

Kirksville Teachers Beat Central 27-0

Kirksville, Mo., Nov. 8.—Kirksville Teachers College Bulldogs defeated the Central college Eagles, 27 to 0, here yesterday. Not once did Central threaten the Bulldogs' goal, although the Eagles fought hard every minute of the game. Streeter, Kirksville, was the star.

King City High Eleven Defeats Ridgeway

King City, Mo., Nov. 8.—The King City Wildcats defeated the Ridgeway eleven here this afternoon, 20 to 7. It was the first game the Wildcats have won at home, although they have been successful in several games in other towns.

Ridgeway scored a touchdown in the first quarter and kicked goal. King City tied the count in the second period. Paul Standlea made a long run around end in this half. In the third quarter Clyde Punks, captain and left tackle for the Wildcats, picked up a fumble and ran 20 yards for a touchdown. Clevenger made a place kick for goal. In the fourth quarter Claude Standlea carried the ball over the line, but King City failed in the effort to kick goal. The defensive playing of Clevenger was one of the features.

Catherine Rush

Medical annals have seldom recorded so rare a case of longevity as that of Catherine Rush, who died in Philadelphia on May 1, 1817, at the age of one hundred and eleven years and eleven months. So far is is known Catherine Rush had lived on the outskirts of Philadelphia all her life, and no one was particularly interested in her until she reached the age of one hundred, having been a very frail girl. When she passed the one-hundred-year mark physicians began to watch her. They kept up their watching for nearly twelve years. It was Catherine Rush's greatest desire, when she felt the end coming, to round out one hundred and twelve years. She faded of it by one month.—Chicago Journal.

Traced to Archimedes

The word "Eureka" is said to have been uttered by Archimedes (287-212 B. C.), the Greek philosopher, when the principle of specific gravity first dawned upon him. It is said that the thought first came to him while in the bath, and that he fled half-clad through the streets of Syracuse to his home, shouting, "I have found it! I have found it!" The problem that had been given him to solve was to determine whether a golden crown made for Hiero, king of Syracuse, had been alloyed with silver. This the king had suspected, and the philosopher afterwards proved it to be true.

Alexandrian Pharos

Pharos was the name of an island in the harbor of Alexandria. Here Ptolemy I, who had been one of the generals of Alexander the Great, decided to build a gigantic lighthouse. The work was finally completed during the reign of Ptolemy Philadelphus. The structure was 450 feet high and 100 feet square at the base. At the summit was kept a beacon fire which, according to the historian, Josephus, could be seen over forty miles away. Part of this famous lighthouse was blown down in the Eighth century. The ruin was completed by earthquakes in 1303 and 1346.

How Should Water Taste?

Although the palatability of water is largely a matter of individual taste, there are objectionable tastes in water that can be ascribed definitely to either chemicals such as iron, chlorine or an alkali, decaying vegetation, microscopical organism or pollution by trade wastes, etc. When tanks or reservoirs become contaminated from any of these causes the cheapest and easiest way is to clean out the container and start with a new supply, though copper sulphate or chlorine properly used are very effective in controlling organisms in such reservoirs.

RECORD DISASTER YEAR KEPT RED CROSS BUSY

In 192 Places in United States Its Relief Operations Cost $737,603.

One hundred and ninety-two disasters resulting in 735 deaths and injury to 1,932 persons, rendering nearly 44,000 homeless and causing property losses estimated at more than $44,750,000, established a new record in the United States in the year ended last June 30, according to reports of the American Red Cross. In all of these disasters immediately relief activity was applied by the Red Cross, which expended $737,603.37 through the national organization and the local Chapters in assisting stricken communities.

As the nation's chief relief agency, whose service covers over 43 years, the Red Cross is expected to be on duty almost as soon as disaster strikes any locality. This trust and confidence is amply justified by the increasing equipment of the Red Cross, which recently organized a mobile disaster unit of experienced workers ready in all parts of the country to respond on the instant to a call for active duty. This unit is capable of operating in several disaster areas under one general direction, and recently was at work in seven communities in five states at the same time.

Ability, alertness and increasing skill of volunteer workers in more than 3,500 Chapters are reasons for the preparedness of Red Cross for disaster operations, be the call for a disturbance in a restricted local area or for millions in relief funds for a staggering catastrophe such as the earthquake in Japan.

The Red Cross, however, is far from being self-satisfied, for the organization is giving the most serious consideration to measures for preventing disasters. Its relief administration and rehabilitation policies have won for it nation-wide regard. That this important work can always measure up to every demand needs the continued support of the American people through Red Cross membership. The annual enrollment will begin Armistice Day, November 11, and every American is urged to join or renew membership in the Red Cross.

IRONY

I always wanted
A little carved bowl
With grapes on its edges
And gilt on the whole,
And a daffodil garden
And a singing soul.

I wanted gold rings
And silken dress
And a friend who knew
What no others could guess,
And a very great
Gold happiness.

I never have had
A silken gown,
And no gold happiness
Ever came down
To be my shelter,
And my shining crown.

Nor a daffodil garden
Nor a singing soul,
Nor ever a friend
Who knew me whole,
But today someone gave me
A little carved bowl.
—Margaret Wilson, in Harper's.

Mystery Fish Caught Off Icelandic Coast

The British museum authorities have notified the curator of the Hull Museum of Fisheries that a strange fish caught off the Icelandic coast by a Hull trawler and landed at Hull is apparently unknown to science. There is nothing like it in the national collection.

The fish is one yard in length. The flesh is very soft and flabby, and the head is after the type of a halibut. Its entire surface is covered with sharp and hard conical spines resembling white ivory. The skin is coal black.

Its tail resembles a gloved hand with eight fingers, between each of which is a thin web. In the center of the back is a rodlike feature with a tassel-shaped structure. At its end is a red flesh ball, which, according to the experts, is used as a bait to draw smaller fish near so that they can be snapped in the powerful jaws.

Mill's Motive Power Dependent on Rain

Houghton, in Lancashire, can boast what is probably the only cotton mill in Britain which is run by waterpower.

The mill is three stories high, contains 100 looms, and is worked by thirty weavers and their assistants.

The only time during which anxiety overtakes the mill owners and the employees is the time of drought. Little rain means little power. There have been times in a hot summer when the weavers have only worked an hour and a half a day—the stream has stopped.

Yet, so far as this mill is concerned, water has beaten steam and electricity

He Should Worry

A returning reveller was vainly trying to get his latchkey in his front door when a good-natured passerby offered to do it for him. Taking the key, the stranger gave the lock a violent twist and snapped the key in half, leaving the end in the door.

"I say, I'm awfully sorry," he explained; "quite an accident, you know, but I've broken your key."

"Washat?" murmured the reveller.

Feathers His Undoing

Following a trail of feathers from a devastated hen coop a constable of Ely, England, came to the home of Robert W. Crabb. "What have you for dinner?" asked the constable. "Roast beef," replied Crabb. But the constable thought he could smell chicken cooking, so he investigated and found two dressed chickens in the oven. The fowls were not served to Crabb in the town jail.

Bound in Human Skin

The man who recently announced his desire to bequeath his skin to his friends for the purpose of bookbinding is not so original as might be thought. An acquaintance of M. Flammarion had beautiful shoulders, on which he had complimented her, and on her death she left the skin to him as a legacy. He used it for the binding of his "Ciel et Terre."

Stage-Struck Donkey

A donkey in a Boston amateur performance of "Veronique" refused to leave the stage and had to be carried off.

When Her Anger Had Subsided

By HUGHES MEARNS

(© by Doubleday, Page & Co.)

MRS. LASELLI was in a contrite mood. She had just come from a meeting of the Parents' association of the Washington high school where she had been led into a public confession. The principal had introduced a psychologist to the meeting, a fine voiced, magnetic gentleman, who would confer with parents and talk with them about youth and all the new ways of learning. He had asked questions in the most intimate of persuasive tones; and almost before Mrs. Laselli had been aware of it, she found herself speaking out before all the American mothers and telling how she had just scolded her child and had sent her to bed for saying a coarse word.

And now she knew that she should not have done that. "You may get seeming obedience," the psychologist had told her sympathetically, "but your child is not obeying with her mind. Deep within her is a storm of rebellion; it will rage—deep within her—and when it breaks forth later, as it is sure to do, you may wish you had reasoned with her, really persuader her, and so have won her to you." And the picture he painted of the possible evil consequences of her harsh treatment was very terrifying.

But there were ways of making amends, he pointed out; and Mrs. Laselli was hurrying home to meet her daughter, Beatrice, and save her from herself.

"Where you been all day so late when you have got from school early, hey?" Mrs. Laselli began in the old threatening tones, but caught herself instantly and laughed, a rather startling laugh, and added: "Out wit' dose Dutch Lasher kids, huh? Havin' a good time, huh? Dat's a' right, Beatrice. Have a good time when you're young. You was out wit' de Lasher kids, huh?"

Beatrice nodded. The mother did not notice the troubled, watchful face.

Mrs. Laselli sat down and beamed at her daughter. Then she launched into the speech of reconciliation. She had been all wrong to scold her and send her to bed for saying a bad word. Young American kids were different. In the old country they beat them and then what?—all the kids cut out from home at the first chance and let the old mothers and fathers take care of themselves. Or they got locked up or went to the bad. Now she wasn't going to be that way any more; Mrs. Laselli was going to be kind.

"You have a good time, yes, wit' dose Dutch Lasher kids, huh, Beatrice?" The mother smiled radiantly.

"Oh, mother!" Beatrice burst suddenly into weeping and cast herself on her knees and buried her head in the capacious lap. "I wasn't out with the Lashers."

"What!" The mother bristled suspiciously. "Den w'at you lie to me for, hey?"

But Beatrice did not hear the question. She was sobbing, but some of it was for joy that her mother would at last understand. "It was Joe," she said at last, raising a troubled wet face.

"Yes," Beatrice went on eagerly, hungry for the chance to confess; "I have been meeting him after school. Nothing wrong, you understand, mother. Just meeting and standing and talking, him joshing me and me having fun, you know. . . . And always he has been wanting me to walk out in the park, and I was afraid. . . . Didn't know why, but I was. And he kept at me, called me cowardy-cat. And I said I wasn't a cowardly-cat. And he dared me. And so today I went. And oh, mother," she buried her face again, "he grabbed me and tried to kiss me, and I beat his face with my hands—I was afraid to scream for fear someone would see me and tell—and I broke away and ran and ran—it was dark—until I got home and I could hardly get up the steps and I was so scared. And, oh, mother, I wasn't going to tell you, but—"

Beatrice found herself on the floor with the violent shove that Mrs. Laselli had put into her blazing indignation. From there she looked up in dazed surprise. Mrs. Laselli was shrieking at her.

"You go out wit' dat Joe, hey! And disgrace yourself wit' huggin' an' kissin' an' all dat in de park, hey! W'at kind o' daughter is it you're bein', hey! In de park! An' wit' dat good-for not'in, Joe! Up to your room wit' you right off quick, before I take a stick an' beat you so you never go out wit' boys again! Up, I say! To bed you go, and stay, you low, good-for-not'in until I say you get out again! . . . Out o' here quick before I beat your head for you!"

And late that night, when the fires of anger had subsided, Mrs. Laselli thought suddenly of the soft voice of the psychologist; she saw his thoughtful eyes looking so kindly into hers and a terrible fear smote her so that her knees shook and she had to sit abruptly down.

After a moment she rose, steadied herself with an effort, went out into the hall and listened. There came no sound from upstairs, but the light was burning fiercely in Beatrice's room. Mrs. Laselli hurried up the stairs as if with fear that she might be too late.

BAKER MAINTAINS LEAD OVER NELSON

TWO PROPOSALS SAFE

Senate Will Be Controlled By Democrats, House By Republicans, 77 To 64.

St. Louis, Nov. 8.—After mounting and dropping throughout the day, the lead of Sam A. Baker, Republican candidate for governor, over his Democratic opponent, on the face of returns compiled late last night stood at 10,192 with only 51 of the state's 4,080 precincts yet to be heard from. Baker's majority at one time during the day had climbed to 11,277 due to an error found in the tabulation of the vote in one of the St. Louis wards.

With additional official and unofficial returns from various counties coming in, his lead changed continually but always remaining 11,000 and upward. It is considered certain, however, that this lead will assure him his election, provided no material errors, unfavorable to the Republican candidate, are discovered in the recount.

Others In Also.

Returns from 85 per cent of the precincts of the state received last night established majorities for the remainder of the Republican state candidates, which apparently assures their election.

The hotly contested districts votes for judge of the Kansas City court of appeals, appeared to give a victory to the Democratic candidate, F. H. Trimble, over Nelson E. Johnson, Republican. Returns from 1,478 out of the 1,689 precincts, gave: Trimble 247,654; Johnson, 233,819.

Additional returns from the sixteen congressional districts failed to affect materially the majorities of the nine Democratic and seven Republican leaders.

Eleven Democrats and six Republicans were chosen in the seventeen odd numbered state senatorial districts, representing a gain of four for the Democrats. In the next senate, seats will be held by 23 Democrats and 11 Republicans.

With the returns in from rural districts throughout the day, expressing a decidedly unfavorable vote on the whole for the amendments and initiative proposals, amendments 1, 2 and 6 appeared doomed to defeat by overwhelmingly negative majorities.

Two Proposals Safe.

But two proposals, numbers 5 and 7, the road measure and the proposed expansion of St. Louis City into St. Louis county, appeared certain of adoption.

The determined negative expression placed proposal No. 4, though showing an affirmative majority of 38,338 in jeopardy, according to the ratio of negative returns pouring in. Amendment No. 3 and proposal No. 8 were also placed in the doubtful column on the basis of these returns, though both showed affirmative majorities.

The count on other state officers stood:

Secretary of state: 3,501 precincts give Becker (R) 587,795; Morrow (D) 523,979. Majority 63,816.

State treasurer: 3,432 precincts give Stephens (R) 569,749; Stone (D) 521,415. Majority 48,334.

For attorney general: 3,468 precincts give Otto (R) 572,540; Jones (D) 536,169. Majority 37,371.

For judge of the Kansas City court of appeals: 1,478 precincts out of 1,689 give Johnson (R) 233819; Trimble (D) 247,654. Majority 13,835.

For judge of the Springfield court of appeals: 657 precincts out of 1,044 give Bailey (R) 88,314; Farrington (D) 75,633. Majority 12,681.

For judge of the St. Louis court of appeals: 1,222 precincts out of 1,336 give Nipper (R) 224,125; Allen (D) 177,171. Majority 46,954.

The Republicans gained at least 13 seats in the Missouri house of representatives as the result of Tuesday's election and will control the house by a safe majority.

With reports from all but nine of the 150 representative districts, the Republicans had elected 77 and the Democrats 64. The missing counties in the old house were represented by three Republicans and six Democrats. This would be insufficient, however,

Shenandoah Wlil Have Only One Paper

According to yesterday's Shenandoah World, Shenandoah will have only one daily paper effective November 10. The World had the following about it:

The directors of the World Publishing Company and the Sentinel-Post Publishing Company have effected a consolidation which becomes effective Monday, Nov. 10, by which there will be but one newspaper published in this city, a daily. It will be known as the "World-Sentinel," or the "Sentinel-World," the tri-weekly Sentinel-Post to be discontinued and the subscription credits to be applied on the new daily.

In the consolidation of the newspapers the community will receive a much better service than they have ever had ,and better than any of the surrounding cities are receiving. One good newspaper is more valuable to a community than two could ever be. The one paper will cover the field, will be a better medium for the advertiser and save him money. It will likewise be better for the subscriber and we predict in this consolidation, with the publication of a good independent paper, the entire community will benefit.
